A PRISONER WITH THE FILIPINOS.

Lieut. Commander Gilmore Speaks of His Experiences and His Impressions in Luzon.

Lieut. Commander Gilmore, who for eight months was a prisoner in the hands of the Filipinos, and who was rescued in December last with his comrades in a state bordering on starvation, reported for duty yesterday on the recruiting ship Franklin.

Lieut. Gilmore is of medium height and build, with closely cut black hair, dark eyes and regular features of a soldierly stamp. A frank and easy address goes to fill out the idea of the typical American fighter, whether of the navy or army. There is apparently no trace of the hardships through which he passed visible, however, upon the Lieutenant now. He told a Virginian Pilot reporter, who saw him on the Franklin, that he had completely recovered his health. He talked at length about his experiences while journeying about in the interior of Luzon a prisoner with the Filipino army, pointing out on a chart of the island, where his wanderings had been.

After his capture near Baker on the east coast of Luzon, Lieutenant Gilmore and his party of Americans were transferred to a point on the east coast, were subsequently taken to Vigan, and at length marched from pillar to post among the mountains in the north of the island, according as the Filipino army chased the fast-disintegrating Filipino army.

While Aguinaldo remained at the head of the army the prisoners were treated with kindness, but there was a change when General Tino assumed command. At Vigan General Tino was about to order the execution of the Americans, but was persuaded from his purpose by the intercession of the president or mayor of the town.

Lieutenant Gilmore speaks of the Philippines as a valuable possession. Though cultivation to a large extent has been abandoned owing to the state of anarchy which exists, he saw many flourishing plantations of sugar cane, tobacco, hemp and rice. The soil showing wonderful fertility. The scenery of the interior is surpassingly fine, according to Lieutenant Gilmore, and the whole appearance of the country is one suggesting possibilities, under an enlightened government, for the development of great wealth.

The real point of the Lieutenant's observation is, that the Filipinos are no more capable of self-government than children. Some of the leaders in the army and the principal men in the towns whom he met were educated, but the majority of the people are semi-savage.

It may be a stimulus to American enterprise to know that there is gold in northern Luzon, and Lieutenant Gilmore declared that he saw quantities of the precious metal among the sands of the river Arilley in the northern portion of the island. This was the view of what the rescue took place.

Lieutenant Gilmore has written an account of his experiences, which will appear shortly in McClure's Magazine. He may possibly enlarge upon these writings in a book.

CHARGED WITH A FELONY.

Mr. W. L. Martin, a contractor of Norfolk county, was employed by a man named Gold, who keeps a store on the corner of Glasgow street road and the Port Norfolk Railroad, to enlarge his store and dwelling for him. Mr. Martin has been at work on it for some time and has it nearly completed. Yesterday afternoon Gold had two loads of furniture brought to his place and wanted to store it in the room. This Martin refused to allow him to do. Gold became enraged and used an oath against Martin, at the same time threatening him. Martin said, "If you attempt to put these things in here I will have you arrested for trespassing." Gold then grabbed a stick and struck Martin over the head with it. By this time Mrs. Gold, her maid, and a colored driver seized Martin, while Gold struck him three blows on the head with a heavy stick, making three ugly cuts, one on the forehead, one behind the ear and another on the back of the head. Each cut is over an inch long.

Mr. Martin says that if it had not been for a negro man employed by him taking the stick away from Gold that he would have been killed.

Gold swore out a warrant against Martin charging him with assaulting his wife.

Martin swore out a warrant charging Gold with assault with intent to maim, disfigure and kill. The case will come up to-night at 6 o'clock before Justice Bunting.

Mr. Charles T. Bland has been engaged by Mr. Martin.

AN EXPERIENCE WITH A HERON.

Mr. DuBarry, a young man of this city, had a strange experience yesterday morning. He found a half-grown blue heron on the premises of Captain John T. Beaton, Court street.

Mr. DuBarry caught the bird, which is probably half grown, though it was after a struggle. The bird, in its attempt to escape, struck Mr. DuBarry in the face, near the eye, with its bill. Had the aim been true his eye would probably have been put out.

The bird is on exhibition in the window of Mr. W. E. Daugherty, in High street. How the heron came to be in the yard of a private residence in the heart of the city is somewhat of a mystery.

WEST VIRGINIA REPUBLICANS.

ELKINS ENDORSED—OPPOSED TO PAYMENT OF OLD VIRGINIA STATE DEBT.

(By Telegraph to Virginian-Pilot.)

Charleston, W. Va., July 11.—The feature of the Republican State convention here to-day was the keynote speech of Senator Stephen R. Elkins as temporary chairman. Senator Elkins received close attention for an hour and a half.

The Senator was succeeded as presiding officer by Congressman Freer. A. B. White was nominated for Governor with unusual unanimity, and unlimited enthusiasm. White has been an editor and a member of the State and other campaign committees for years. He is 44 years old, but has been in politics ever since he graduated at Marietta College in 1875. He was internal revenue collector under Harrison as well as under McKinley. He is a son of E. E. White, the author and educator.

The resolutions reaffirm the Philadelphia plank and pledge loyal support to McKinley and Roosevelt. Elkins is especially endorsed for re-election. Opposition to the payment of the old Virginia debt is most emphatically pledged.

"We denounce the disfranchisement in certain States of colored voters because they are colored voters. Such laws are a violation of the Constitution of the United States, and are unjust and immoral. We demand for every citizen, white or black, rich or poor, high or low, equal rights before the law and equal chance to develop the talents and gifts that God has given him."

"The platform denounces the financial planks of the West Virginia Democratic platform as 'false and insincere.' One plank is devoted to the Chinese question, congratulating the country on the fact that growing out of the Spanish war we have near at hand ships and men to send to the relief of our besieged citizens in that foreign country."

Kansas City, July 11.—Samuel W. Fordyce, president of the Kansas City Southern railroad, has presented his resignation to take effect on August 1. His successor probably will be Stuart R. Knott, of Savannah, Ga., vice-president of the Plant System.

LIVELY AT LINCOLN.

THREE FUSION STATE CONVENTIONS—BIBB JOINS DEMOCRATS—TOWNE WILL WITHDRAW.

(By Telegraph to Virginian-Pilot.)

Lincoln, Neb., July 11.—Three fusion State conventions, the Populist, Democrat and Silver Republican, met here to-day to nominate a full State ticket.

The Populist State Convention was called to order by State Chairman Edminston with over 1,200 delegates present. In his address Chairman Edminston urged that the delegates work in unity in the interests of the reform forces. His reference to W. J. Bryan "that noble man, that free man, who represents the interests of common humankind" was enthusiastically cheered.

Senator W. V. Allen was made temporary chairman, and on taking the chair made a plea for harmony and conservatism, saying there was never a time in the history of the country that such a grave situation confronted the nation as now.

The convention then took a recess until 8 p. m., pending the report of the committees.

THE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

Chairman Hall, of the State Central Committee, called the Democratic convention to-day and introduced as temporary chairman T. J. Doyle, of Lincoln. Chairman Doyle made an address of considerable length. His incidental reference to W. J. Bryan brought out hearty applause. Following the appointment of a committee on credentials, W. D. Oldham, of Lincoln, and R. S. Bibb, of Beatrice, addressed the convention. Mr. Bibb four years ago repudiated the free silver plank of the Democratic National Convention and supported Major McKinley. His speech served to announce his reconversion to the principles of Democracy. The convention then took a recess until 8 o'clock.

FREE SILVER REPUBLICANS.

The Free Silver Republicans organized by electing George Hibner, of Lincoln, temporary and then permanent chairman, and after appointing a committee on credentials, the convention then took a recess.

The Democrats, on reassembling, adopted the report of the Credentials Committee, and the temporary organization was made permanent. The Committee on Resolutions then reported the platform. It reaffirms the declaration of the National Convention at Kansas City, recommends fusion in the election of United States Senators, members of Congress and State Legislatures and pledges the nominee of the convention to an economical administration of State affairs.

The first note of discord among the Silver Republicans came when Delegate Ransom offered a set of resolutions approving the reported withdrawal of Charles A. Towne as a candidate for Vice-President in favor of Adlai E. Stevenson.

Mr. Ransom's proposal was met with opposition from all over the hall, and the resolutions were finally withdrawn.

TOWNE WILL WITHDRAW.

Mr. Towne, who was present, in a short speech, practically announced his intention to withdraw, but added that he would take an active part in the campaign and work as hard for the success of the ticket as if he were a candidate. The resolutions as finally adopted endorse the Kansas City Silver Republican platform, and recite that in accordance with the action taken at that convention the Free Silver Republican party of Nebraska pledges its support to J. Bryan and Adlai E. Stevenson for President and Vice-President. None of the committee was ready to report when the Populists reassembled and the selection of the State Central Committee was taken up. The convention then listened to speeches until 10 p. m., when the report of the committee on rules and order of business was presented and adopted. Charles A. Towne was introduced amid tremendous cheering. Mr. Towne addressed the convention for about ten minutes, concluding with an eloquent tribute to Adlai E. Stevenson. Just as he concluded, Mr. Bryan rose and declared the building, and for two minutes the convention was wild with enthusiasm. When the delegates quieted down Mr. Bryan said in part:

"I believe in this campaign we have better reason to appeal to the people of this State than in any other previous campaign in which we have engaged. If you will take the platform adopted by the parties you will find that the Republican platform has nothing in it which appeals to the people of a great agricultural State like Nebraska. Look that platform through and you will not find anything in there that reflects the interests or aspirations of the people of this State."

"A distinguished Republican of Nebraska said a short time before the National Republican convention in 1896 that Nebraska would have a Republican majority, no matter what the platform was. I say that Nebraska will give more than 25,000 against the Republican party this year because of the platform that has been adopted by the Democratic party. There is no question about the position of the Democratic party of this State. Read the platform adopted at Kansas City and you will find that the Democratic party is in exact accord with the Democracy of the Union as that Democracy is set forth in the magnificent platform adopted at Kansas City and with the principle there enunciated we can go forth and make a courageous fight."

"I am confident that the Democrats and Populists and Silver Republicans of this State will place their devotion of principle above any ambition for office, that before morning they will have agreed upon a ticket that will be satisfactory to those who make the fight this fall. It has required charity and liberality and conscience for us to keep the reform parties working together, but if it has been necessary we have always found sufficient quantity of these virtues to enable us to get along, and I think this State has set an example to the other States of the nation in the unifying of the reform forces against the common enemy."

"The platform adopted at Kansas City has declared an issue more important than any other in this campaign. I want you to go back home and present these issues to the people, and to call their attention to the fact that if this nation once denies the doctrine that it rests for its authority upon the consent of the governed, then there is nothing but force for it to rest upon, and if there be any who are willing to risk a government resting upon brute force, let it be known in this State that an overwhelming majority of the people prefer to base their government upon the only solid foundation, the consent of the governed. I have such faith in the intelligence and patriotism of the people of this State that I believe when these issues are presented to them and they come face to face with the to turn, we will find they will come to the support of those doctrines set forth at Kansas City."

Mr. Bryan also spoke before the Populist and Free Silver Republican conventions, sentiments being of much the same tenor.

Charles A. Towne, in his address to the Democrats, made his statement even more positive than to the Silver Republicans, that he would withdraw from the ticket.

It was after midnight when the conference committee of the three parties made their first report on conditions on the apportionment of State offices. The report was taken up for discussion in the convention.
